The British Powerlifting League is compiled from divisional and national competitions only ie internationals are excluded. Every time a lifter competes in a domestic competition, their Wilks score is recorded and added up cumulatively over the course of the year. Powerlifting and Bench, Classic and Equipped are all added together. The more competitions you do, the higher your score!

At the end of the year, the top scoring male and female lifter will win a year's free membership to the GBPF for the following year.

To the left is the list of competitions used to compile this league.
