

COMMUNICATIONS DIRECTOR REPORT FOR 2019 AGM

I am proud to have been selected for the appointment of Communications Director In December 2018 and published the first British Powerlifting Magazine in January 2019. I am very happy how members are submitting content for the next newsletter publishing in April.

I publish news and British Powerlifting information and respond that day to members who message or email me. I have reminded members to submit their success to local press and offered help to do this if needed. Since my appointment I have found the Facebook interactions on the whole positive but flagging up any issues that need addressing.

I invite input to what you would like me to provide from your personal perspective.

I suggest a 2020 calendar with twelve of the best photographs of the year submitted by members and judged by ourselves. After publication costs the remainder of the revenue going to charity. I suggest one of our disability lifters charities.

I am working on an article for National Press on how Powerlifting is improving the life of so many at different ages, male and female with our membership over 4000.

Nicola Elding.
